

Organise your thoughts and present your ideas

Purpose:

This is a course of intensive one-on-one private coaching for students who want to improve or upgrade their presentation skills, especially if they have to present their Three Minute Thesis. There is an in-depth analysis of the students's strengths and weaknesses as well as his/her personal presentation needs and goals. Appropriate solutions are introduced and practiced in a step-by-step fashion, carefully building up the repertoire of tools and skills required to present with flair and confidence. This method suits those who wish to polish their skills in privacy before they present their 3MT presentation.

In-house Group Training is also offered.
